CAUTION to SHOE DEALERS.—Notice is hereby given that no licenses or grants to manufacture the CONGRESS BOOT have been issued, without the condition that each pair should be stamped with mame and date of patent. Persons buying or selling any other, are liable to prosecution for infringement.

Hearing that some persons are preparing to infringe, by the use of elastic materials, made of threads of rubber braided or woven together, I hereby inform all persons that such, if used in making the Congress Boot, would be a direct and positive infringement of the patent issued to Depont & Hysti, and by them sold and assigned to me.—Any infringement by making or selling the Congress Boot, without due authority from me, must be prosecuted.

Having invested over $5,500 in the introduction of this invention to the public, and thereby given the patent a value, I am resolved to vindicate it to the utmost.
